DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11, drawn to methods of identifying regions of the genome, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - II. Claims 12-14, drawn to methods of identifying genes, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions in Group I and in Group II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated because the Group I method involves steps such as crosslinking proteins to genomic DNA, followed by a sort of protection assay while the Group II method has no steps requiring crosslinking or protection and simply looks for interactions. So the mode of operation of the two methods is significantly different. Further, they have different functions and effects since the Group I method is designed to identify regions of the genome to which a protein of interest binds while the Group II method is designed to identify sets of genes. These are different objectives and the results the obtain from following the methods differ in that Group I results in the identification of a genomic region while the Group II method results in identification of genes.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. Additionally, the search required for each Group will be different, since the search of Group I will involve determination of how protection assays may apply to genomes and search for art relevant to protection assays on genomes while the Group II search will be entirely different, focusing on gene expression type references. So the terms used in the searches and the resultant art found will be different. Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
